EDWARD A. PEYTON is determined to be distinguished. Having appeared before Congress in the character of "debater" and "orating man," only to meet his superiors in NELSON and POTTER, he now assumes the character of reformer. He has denounced the venerable sage of Wheatland, as one who neglected his duty in not informing Congress that the profits on the Post-Office Blank Printing were excessive. Mr. PEYTON has made a hit in this character, and we hope to see it again—not once but frequently. A Democrat denouncing "Jobs" and "Contracts" is a rare bird indeed.

WHAT PEYNTICE SAYS OF IT.—The Louisville Journal, of the 19th, in commenting on the Chicago nomination, says: "Mr. LINCOLN, though as an individual less exceptionable politically than Mr. SEWARD, and tho' personally a most genial and estimable man, is nevertheless a thorough representative of the Republican principle in its widest recognized expansion, which is the expansion given to it in the platform on which he is nominated; for it is a magnificent and striking fact that the Chicago Convention affirmed Republican principle with a radical extension before it surrendered Mr. SEWARD."

THE CHICAGO DEMOCRAT notices a piece of music called "ANNA SNOW," composed by Miss A. OSE, the words written by Mrs. J. WALCOTT. The composer of this music is a young lady resident in Wisconsin, and this is her first attempt at musical composition.—Its melody is very sweet, tender and mournful, and fills the eye with tears. If this composer's future efforts fulfill the promise given by this first essay, her name will become noted among the children of song.

NOT ONE TO BE FOUND.—We are informed, says the Chicago Journal, that in the town of Cedar Falls, Iowa, containing about 1,300 inhabitants, there are not over twelve or fifteen Democrats, and among this number, not one was competent to manage the postoffice of the town. A Democrat was therefore imported from Dubuque, and duly installed in the office.

ACCIDENT.—On Thursday afternoon a little son of LYMAN ROOT, of the town of Beaver Dam, was hunting gophers, accompanied by his sister, aged six or seven years.—As the boy attempted to shoot, the girl put her head over the muzzle of the gun, and the charge passed through it making a serious wound.

BY THE newly revised statutes of Massachusetts, bank officers are required to stamp all counterfeit and spurious bills which may be received in the course of business, under a penalty of paying the full amount of the bill or bills allowed to pass without being so stamped.

LUMBERMEN IN LUCK.—The frequent and heavy rains of the past week have raised the waters of the Wolf river and its tributaries—a good thing for our lumbermen who will now be able to run their logs out of the small streams, and get them to market.

DEATH OF A SUPREME COURT JUDGE.—The telegraph announces the death, yesterday, at his residence in Richmond, Va., of Hon. Peter V. Daniel, one of the associate Justices of the Supreme Court of the United States. Judge Daniel was appointed in 1841, under the administration of John Tyler, and was an estimable man and a good lawyer, though without eminent qualities. He fully concurred in the opinion of Chief Justice Taney in the Dred Scott case, which did so much to shake the public confidence in the justice and impartiality of that tribunal.

The decease of Judge Daniel imposes upon President Buchanan the duty of nominating his successor, who must then be confirmed by the Senate. It has been confidently stated that Attorney General Black has been for some time the heir apparent to the next vacant seat on the Supreme Bench.—But, as there is already one Judge from the State of Pennsylvania on the Bench, (Judge Grier,) it is not probable that Judge Black will be at this time favored with the appointment. The appointee will doubtless be a Southern man, in every sense of the word, and Virginia will put in her claim to the succession.

PROMISING YOUTH.—On Sunday last, a small boy of prepossessing appearance, went to the livery stable of J. Fairweather and hired a horse and buggy to go to the Falls. After he had been absent about half an hour, Mr. F. suspected something wrong and went and made inquiries at the place where the boy was stopping. He found that the boy had misrepresented some things to him, (F.) and immediately started to overtake him. He found that he had not passed either of the toll-gates, but had taken the Milwaukee road. He was finally overhauled about ten miles this side of Port Washington. When first seen he was standing up in the buggy, whipping the horse furiously.

He was taken before Justice Edwards, and the District Attorney concluded to commit him till the meeting of the Grand Jury on Monday next. In the meanwhile his father will be seen—who the boy represents as being F. Schumacher, of Milwaukee.—Sheboygan Journal.

THE KENNEDY REQUISITION CASE.—AN INDIGNATION MEETING AT MEMPHIS.—The Memphis papers of Tuesday contain calls for a meeting to be held that evening of "those who feel incensed at the conduct of his Abolition Excellency, Gov. Dennison, of Ohio," for refusing to recognize the requisition of Gov. Harris for the custody of Stephen G. Kennedy, who is charged with negro stealing. They also state that a warrant will be issued against Kennedy for stealing his wife's jewels. Had the requisition been made on this ground, there would have been no occasion for trouble, and no possible excuse for the Tennesseans getting indignant.

SOME POLITICIANS are trying to prove that "Old Abe" is deficient in abe-ility.—Transcript.

The efforts of such politicians, neighbor, will be abe-ortive. A government with "Abe" Lincoln at the head, and "Bill" Seward as a cabinet officer, we rather think will be conspicuous for abe-bill-ity.—Boston Atlas.

JOSHUA WARD, the American Champion oarsman, has gone to training for the contemplated race with the Englishman. He promises, at the end of a month, to pull a drag wherry fourteen miles without stopping.

IN CYPRUS and Egypt, hydrophobia has never been known to occur.

Tenth Exhibition of the Wisconsin State Agricultural Society.

We have received the pamphlet announcing the officers of the Society for 1860, the premiums and rules and regulations of the Tenth Annual Fair, to be held at Madison, September 24th to 29th, inclusive.

In regard to the location of the Fair, the Secretary says:

"Economy would dictate a permanent location; since the annual fitting up of the Grounds, with temporary buildings, fences, &c., must not only necessarily prove inadequate to the requisite security, comfort, and good taste, but likewise prove, in the course of a few years, much more expensive than if the improvements were permanent.

"But, on the other hand, the convenience of the people by whom they are supported, in the various sections of the States, and hence the interests of the industrial arts in those sections, which otherwise would scarcely be reached by a stationary or localized Fair, demand with equal or perhaps even greater force of argument that the Society, in the holding of its Fairs, should continue to circulate from place to place, as the wants and capabilities of the different portions of the State may seem to require. The location for two years was a compromise upon a difficult question, which could not otherwise be easily settled; the wisdom of the decision must be tested by time."

The following are the Officers of the Exhibition:

Committee of Preparation.—B. R. Hinkley, J. W. Hoyt, J. V. Robbins, David Atwood, C. H. Williams.

Council of General Management during the Fair.—Executive Committee of Society.

General Inspector and Executive Head.—B. R. Hinkley, President.

General Superintendent.—J. V. Robbins, Vice President.

Controller of Office of Entry.—J. W. Hoyt, Secretary.

Controller of Ticket Office.—David Atwood, Treasurer.

Superintendents of the Several Departments of the Exhibition.—See heads of the several Departments in the Premium List.

Superintendent of Gates.—David Williams, Springfield.

The Society offers five thousand dollars in premiums.

Among the novel features of this Exhibition the competition of Counties, will prove most interesting. County pride is but patriotism on a less than national scale, and the stimulation and fostering of that laudable sentiment cannot but result favorably to the Agriculture of the State. It is our belief that the spendid Prize Banner so liberally contributed by the citizens of Madison, and now offered by the Society, will have that effect. We shall wait with intense interest to see which one of our noble Societies will win for its county the proud distinction of THE BANNER COUNTY.

The Wisconsin Fruit Growers' Association are making arrangements to exhibit in connection with the Society, and we confidently expect a show of Fruit that will well repay a visit from the remotest parts of the State.

Should the season continue as favorable as it has begun, there will be no lack of fruits, vegetables, and the grains for that division of the Exhibition; and the display of machinery and implements promises to exceed anything that has yet been seen in the State. Besides the Steam Plows, which we shall undoubtedly have on trial, with sundry Draining Machines, it is proposed to secure the exhibition of other new and valuable machinery which the Committee are not prepared to announce.

EXHIBITIONS BY COUNTIES.

For the largest and most creditable contribution made by the citizens of any one county, exclusive of Dane, ... A PRIZE BANNER WORTH $100

[The Banner offered by the Society will be the voluntary gift of some twenty of the citizens of Madison, for that purpose, and a prize worthy the competition of the best counties in the State. The Judges are to be selected by the Executive Committee at the time of the Fair, and will be required to base their decision upon such circumstances of population, remoteness from the locality of the Fair, &c., &c., as will ensure equal advantage to all the counties in competition. The award will be made to the Agricultural Society of the successful county, and a notice of an intent to compete must be filed by the competing societies with the Secretary as early as the first day of August. The articles and animals exhibited will not be classified by counties, but each exhibitor from counties competing, will be furnished with a card bearing the name of the county to which he belongs, so that the Judges appointed will be enabled to decide after an examination of all the articles thus labelled in the several classes. No entry fee required.

Illness of Judge Douglas.

Judge Douglas is still confined to his bed by the condition of his throat. If it should not improve, he will be compelled to visit New York for the purpose of obtaining medical attendance there.—Washington Correspondence of the N. Y. Herald.

There is no doubt but the health of Judge Douglas is very seriously and perhaps permanently impaired. He at times displays almost preternatural energy and activity, but his power is rapidly waning. On occasion of his last speech in the Senate, he was obliged to suspend his remarks in consequence of exhaustion. His once magnificent voice is gone, ruined by his campaigns upon the "stump." His habits are not such as to allow recovery. His personal conspicuity is so great that he is incessantly harrassed by partizans of his persuasion, and like many others of our eminent politicians, he frequently appeals to the brandy bottle to sustain him amid the exhausting excitements to which he is subjected. Those who know him best are impressed that he cannot live many years—indeed that it is extremely doubtful whether he can live through his present Senatorial term.

To add to his embarrassments, his fortune has broken down with his health. A few years ago he was believed to be worth about two hundred thousand dollars, but his enormous expenses in canvassing Illinois in 1856 and '58, and the fall in North-western real estate—particularly that which was being speculated upon—has brought him to the verge of bankruptcy. Now, broken in health and fortune, he sees the dream of the Presidency, in which he has so long indulged, fading utterly; and his life, presently, instead of being pointed out and blazoned as a splendid success, will prove a complete and mournful failure—a dismal illustration of the perils and fatalities attendant upon inordinate ambition, and a warning to young men who are dissatisfied with the paths of quiet usefulness, and thirst for the vain pomps and glittering but unsubstantial reputations, so hardly won, worth so little, and so easily lost, in a public man's career.—Cin. Com.

A DEAD MAN TELLS HIS FRIENDS WHERE HE IS BURIED.—The Madison (Ind.) Courier of May 30, relates the following very remarkable incident:

"Among the unfortunate flatboatmen wrecked in the late terrible hurricane on the Ohio, were two brothers of the name of Gibbons, from Pittsburg. When the boat they were on went down near Carrollton, one of them was rescued from drowning, but the other, less fortunate, sunk and perished beneath the waves. The survivor, after waiting at Carrollton and searching in vain for several days for the body, returned to his home in Pittsburg. Saturday night he dreamed his brother, whose name was Daniel, came to his bedside and told him that his body might be found buried by the side of that of a relative, who perished on the same day and in a like manner with himself. (The relative was on another boat when lost.) The brother immediately started down the river, and on reaching this city, calling on the sexton of Springdale Cemetery, he found sure enough that his brother and relative were interred side by side in this city. This is a strange story, but it was related to us by Mr. Gibbons himself, who was in our office today, and we have no reason to question his veracity.

COUNTERFEITERS ARRESTED.—Sheriff Staley and F. P. Bradish, yesterday arrested two young men, who were accused of passing bogus half dollars. The circumstances which led to their arrest were as follows:

A boy had been sent twice to Mitchell's Brewery for beer, each time giving a bogus half dollar in payment. Mr. Mitchell concluded all was not right, and followed the boy to the Washington House, where he learned that two men stopping there had furnished the boy money and sent him for the beer. He gave the officers notice, and they were arrested and lodged in jail. The officers found some bogus coin which had been hid in the sand. We understand one man gave his name as Fitzgerald. We warn all to be on the look out, as there is a large quantity of bogus dimes, quarters and half dollars in circulation. We hope to see some of these gents spotted, for we have them in our midst without doubt.—La Crosse Union.

One of the Northern Transportation Co's screw steamers sails for the above ports every day, from the Company's dock at the M. & Miss. R. R. depot, touching at nearly all intermediate ports.

FOR COLLINGWOOD.

The Collingwood Line of screw steamers leave semi-weekly from Dousman's dock, foot of East Water Street, connecting at Collingwood with the Northern Railway of Canada, for the East.

FOR GREEN BAY.

The screw steamer Wabash Valley makes weekly trips to the above port, starting from Olmsted's dock.

Census of 1860—Questions to be Answered.

The taking of the census has commenced. It is desirable that it be taken with great accuracy, and to enable the Assistant Marshal, who will be engaged in the performance of this duty to have their work done well, it has been suggested that the publication of the questions necessary for all heads of families to answer would be a benefit. With this view, we publish the following list, which we believe to be correct.

In the first place it is necessary to write down the name of every person whose usual place of abode on the first of June, 1860, was in the family.

The age of each, sex and color; whether white, black or mulatto.

Profession, occupation, or trade of each male person over fifteen years of age.

Value of real estate owned.

Place of birth, naming State, Territory or country.

Married within the year.

Attended school within the year.

Persons over twenty years of age that cannot read or write.

Whether deaf and dumb, blind, insane or idiotic, pauper or convict.

Name of owner, agent, or manager of the farm.

Number of improved acres.

Number of unimproved acres.

Cash value of them.

Value of farming instruments and machinery.

Live stock on hand June first, 1860, viz: number of horses, mules and asses, working oxen, milch cows and other cattle, swine and sheep.

Value of animals slaughtered during the year.

Produce during the year ending June 1st, 1860, viz: number of bushels of wheat, rye, indian corn; oats, beans, peas, buckwheat, barley, Irish potatoes, sweet potatoes, pounds of wool and tobacco.

Value of ore land products in dollars.

Gallons of wine, value of produce of market garden, pounds of butter, pounds of cheese, tons of hay, bushels of clover seed, bushels of grass seed, pounds of hops, pounds of flax, bushels of flax seed, pounds of maple sugar, gallons of molasses, pounds of honey and beeswax, value of home-made manufactures.

Name of corporation, company or individual producing articles to the annual value of $500.

Name of business, manufacture or product.

Capital invested in real estate and personal estate in the business.

Raw material used, including fuel, viz: quantities, kinds, values, kind of motive power, machinery, or resource.

Average number of hands employed, viz: male and female; average monthly cost of male labor; average monthly cost of female labor.

Annual product of, viz: quantities, kinds, values.

Names of every person who died during the year ending June 1, 1860, whose usual place of abode was in the family; the age, sex and color, whether white, black or mulatto; married or widowed; place of birth; naming the State, Territory or County; the month in which the person died; profession, occupation or trade; disease or cause of death.

OUR CITIZENS will be pleased by attending a lecture, announced elsewhere, by Dr. HENRY MELVILLE. The Doctor gave a course of five lectures, on the same subject, in New York, which were strongly commended to popular favor by the first names in his profession, and among the clergy and laity.—The proceeds are to be devoted to charitable purposes, and we solicit for the lecturer a large attendance of ladies and gentlemen.—The notice is somewhat short, but the advertisement was too late for our Saturday's impression.

THE ST. CHARLES' HOTEL.—Captain D. UPMAN, an old citizen of Milwaukee, has just re-fitted and re-furnished the Hotel Wettstein on Market Square; made many improvements in the house; put it in perfect order, and is now ready to receive and entertain the public. The site is an eligible one; the hotel well arranged, and Captain UPMAN will make an excellent landlord. Under his management, the St. Charles will speedily become a popular institution.

INVENTED.—A Philadelphia paper recently advertised for a new phrase, in place of the worn out one, namely, "intense excitement." We have long been sickened by that "Miss Nancy," but couldn't invent the called for substitute. But it's come, and we commend it to the advertiser. We find it in the Boston Atlas, and here it is:

"There was a full-sized sensation in Portland, on Saturday."

That's better: pass it round.

WE have a letter enquiring the whereabouts of JOHN FILLMORE, and we advise all who are anxious to hear from him to apply to the Wisconsin office, as the editor of that sheet is the only one who has received any communication from that gentleman, or that is thoroughly posted on his transactions. The last letter the Wisconsin received, stated that Mr. FILLMORE would be back in a few days.

FOURTH OF JULY.—Our National Holiday is near at hand and it is high time that arrangements were being made to celebrate it in good style. We learn that a very successful aeronaut is ready to come here and make a grand balloon ascension on the Fourth, if any encouragement shall be held out. Let us have a meeting this week and talk the matter over.

FURNITURE FOR SALE.—The furniture of house No. 349 Milwaukee St., is for sale. Apply at the premises.

MUNICIPAL COURT, JUNE 2.—Ellen Pennington, drunk. Penalty and costs $4,00. Paid.

W. Schultz, disorderly; penalty and costs, $3,50; paid.

Jno. Zettler, assault and battery; discharged. Complaint adjudged to be malicious, and complainant ordered to pay costs. Paid.

Chas. Daniels, violating nuisance ordinance. Penalty and costs $4. Paid.

Henry Eirling, violating ordinance by slaughter in city limits. Penalty and costs $5,95. Costs paid, and by direction of City Attorney time was given to defendant to pay penalty.

Wm. Barsett, violating ordinance in relation to planting trees. Continued to June 4, at 8 1-2 A. M.

A CHANCE FOR AN AMERICAN MARKSMAN.—In July there is to be a meeting of the English National Rifle Association, to shoot for prizes upon Wimbleton Common. The Queen gives £250 to be shot for by the volunteers, and her consort, Prince ALBERT, gives £100 to be shot for by all comers of all nations.

Speaking of marksmen, our friend KELLOGG has refitted his Shooting Gallery, and made several improvements therein. He now proposes to let the public shoot, as of old. Go and pull a trigger, do!

NOTICE.—The annual meeting of the members of the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of the State of Wisconsin, for the election of nine Trustees, will be held at the office of the Company, south-west corner Main and Wisconsin streets on Monday, the 4th day of June next. Polls open from two to four p. m. All persons insured in the Company to the amount of one thousand dollars are voters, and it is hoped that all will be on hand to vote.

FINE STRAWBERRIES.—Our market has been well supplied with fine strawberries during the last few days. They are brought here by rail, in excellent order, from Cincinnati, and were selling on Friday and Saturday as low as twenty and ten cents a quart. M. C. COOK & Co., at their fruit store on Wisconsin street, just east of the alley, receive daily supplies of strawberries and other fruit.

THE FOLLOWING are the names of the directors of the River & Lake Shore Railway Company:

GEO. H. WALKER, ALONZO SEAMAN, LEMUEL W. WEEKS, H. K. VIELE, ALEXANDER EASTON, JOHN MYERS, PETER MARTINEAU. Subsequent to the election of Trustees, G. H. WALKER was elected President and JOHN MEYERS Secretary and Treasurer.

THE IMPROVEMENTS on Spring street are beginning to "show." The American House has been raised and a basement "inserted." When the block of HARVEY BURCHARD'S is completed, we would almost as soon consent to live on Spring street as anywhere else.

MR. WILSON assures us that the Theatre will be opened this week with a first class company, including Mr. RILEY and Miss WATERBURY—both favorites.

LUTHER DEBARRE sends us a political effusion, which will appear after we have re-written—not before.

A CHANCE is offered this morning to respectable men wishing employment. See advertisement headed "wanted."

IN THEIR NEW QUARTERS.—HUNN & CROSBY have moved from the "Old Corner" to their new store, No. 184 East Water street, where they can now be found by their old friends and as many new ones as may see fit to give them a call. tf

SEVENTH WARD HIGH SCHOOL.—The Seventh Ward High School commences its present term on Monday, May 28.

Students will be received at any time during the term, upon application to the Principal.

Students will be charged, from the time of entering, at the rate of $6, $8 and $10 per term, according to studies.

Presidential Election!

THE GREAT CAMPAIGN
OF 1860 OPEN!!

Let Every Republican Prepare for the Conflict!!

Circulate Truth among the People!!

THE WEEKLY SENTINEL
Six Months for Less than Cost of Paper and Printing!!!

READ AND BE CONVINCED!

The present campaign is to be a memorable one. The battle will be fought zealously between the friends and the enemies of Freedom, and the ground contested inch by inch. In view of these facts, it is apparent that the dissemination of Republican papers and documents becomes of vast and vital importance. In order to furnish the WEEKLY SENTINEL to the people of the North-West, during the Campaign of 1860, we have concluded to offer the paper, FROM THE 1ST OF JUNE TO THE 1ST OF DECEMBER, at the following unprecedented liberal terms:

One Copy for - - - - -	$0 50
Twenty Copies, (to one address) -	$9 00
Fifty " " " -	$20 00
One Hundred do " " -	$35 00

These terms will barely cover the cost of paper before it is printed; but we have determined to put the price so low that every individual Republican, or organized Club, in this or adjoining States, will use their best endeavors to scatter the SENTINEL broadcast in their particular localities, and thus accomplish more than by the circulation of ten times as many documents in any other form. Every Campaign subscriber will receive the full returns of the election in November.

We need not urge upon our Republican friends the importance of placing this sheet in the hands of all, Let no voter, or family in the State, be without the SENTINEL during the Campaign. Wheresoever facts are read and the people have access to truth, Republicanism prevails.

Send in your orders as early as possible.

The Qualifications of Mr. Lincoln.

The Democratic papers are just now busily engaged in decrying Mr. LINCOLN. Inasmuch as nothing can be said against his private character, or his public record, and the platform on which he stands defies alike assault and misrepresentation, our opponents are endeavoring to make it appear that Mr. LINCOLN is only "a third-rate man," and quite incapable of filling the Presidential chair. But these gentlemen forget, when they undertake to disparage LINCOLN, that they reflect upon their own favorite, DOUGLAS, for whom LINCOLN proved fully a match in the memorable contest before the People of Illinois in 1858. No "third-rate man" could have coped successfully with DOUGLAS in that hard encounter, or won for himself, as LINCOLN did, the popular verdict. Nor could any "third-rate man" have fought his way up, as LINCOLN has done, from the lumbler to the highest station in life, by his own unaided exertions.

As to Mr. LINCOLN's qualifications for the high office to which the People propose to elect him, the N. Y. Independent bears the following strong and truthful testimony:

"In THOMAS JEFFERSON's celebrated letter to the New Haven merchants who had remonstrated against the removal of Elizur Goodrich from the Collectorship of that port, and the appointment of a successor, whose chief qualification was that he was a partizan of the President, a hope is expressed that a good time may come when the only questions about a candidate for office will be these three. "Is he honest?—Is he capable?—Is he faithful to the Constitution?"

When Jefferson said a good thing, he said it well, and this is one of his good things. These three questions are just the questions which the people of the United States ought to ask in regard to candidates for the Presidency. Let Abraham Lincoln, for example, be subjected to the ordeal of these questions.

Is he honest? Look upon his face. Is that an honest man? Inquire among his neighbors. The honor his guileless integrity by the familiar name which expresses their confidence and love,—Honest Abraham Lincoln. Read his speeches. Hear him when he addresses a popular assembly. The first element of his power over his hearers is the undeniable conviction which they have of his honesty.

Is he capable? Let his whole history, from his early and unfriended struggles to his present high position among the acknowledged leaders of learned profession in one of the greatest States of the Union—give the answer. Let the people of his own State, who know him as thoroughly as they know any other public man, say whether he is capable. Let those who heard him, a few weeks ago, at the Cooper Institute, say whether he has intelligence enough to be the successor of James Buchanan, Franklin Pierce, Millard Fillmore, Zachary Taylor, James K. Polk and John Tyler. We happened to hear that speech. It was not as classically ornate as one of Edward Everett's orations, it was not like one of Thomas Jefferson's epistles, but, in our judgment, it was a better exhibition of that kind of ability which makes a statesman, and which qualified a man for such an office as the Presidency, than Everett's eulogy on Washington, or Jefferson's letter to the New Haven Chamber of Commerce. A more thorough and exhaustive exposition of the subject which he had in hand, no other man could give. There was not a word in it of vulgar stumping-speech—not a word of the "spread eagle" style of oratory—not a word of claptrap: it was a straightforward argument on the great question of the times, and was as able, as it was honest.

Is he faithful to the Constitution? Those who believe that the Constitution is the charter and guarantee of Slavery, end by its own force it carries the institution of Slavery into all the territories, will say No. Such an answer from that quarter is reason enough for every body else to answer Yes. The views of Webster, of Clay, of Marshall, of all our eminent men who lived before the new school of Democracy was founded by Calhoun, and his views on the question now at issue. That is enough.

A Falsehood Retired—Mr. Lincoln and the Mexican War.

From the Chicago Press and Tribune.

At the DOUGLAS demonstration in New York city, on Tuesday last, Col. RICHARDSON, of this State, is reported to have said:

"What great measure did he (Abraham Lincoln) advocate in Congress? (A voice—"He opposed the Mexican War.") Yes, fellow-citizens, when a citizen of his own State, under the gallant Scott, was pushing that little column into the Valley of Mexico, and displaying a bravery, a strategy and a skill such as the world never saw, he (Mr. Lincoln) was making speeches against his countrymen, and in favor of Mexico. [Hisses.]—It retired him from the political arena, and the Whig party refused to return him to Congress, for the Whig Party was not the Mexican party."

This falsehood was originated and put afloat during the memorable canvass between LINCOLN and DOUGLAS in 1858. It first appeared in the Chicago Times, was copied into all the Democratic papers in the State, and was repeated by DOUGLAS in his debate with LINCOLN at Ottawa, and also at Charleston. The Press and Tribune proved its falsity by extracts from the Congressional Globe, showing that after Mr. LINCOLN took his seat in Congress, he voted for every bill that was offered to raise supplies for the American army in Mexico.

It was also denied by Mr. LINCOLN both at Ottawa and Charleston, and at the latter place he brought on the stand Hon. O. B. FICKLIN, his Democratic colleague in Congress, and compelled him to give reluctant testimony to the falsity of the charge. [See LINCOLN and DOUGLAS Debates, page 153.] It was further proved that Mr. LINCOLN's immediate predecessor in Congress, Hon. JOHN HENRY, of Morgan county, then on the stump in behalf of Mr. DOUGLAS, and still a rabid Pro Slavery Democrat, did give the votes falsely attributed to Mr. LINCOLN.

So overwhelming was the proof not only that Mr. LINCOLN did not vote against supplies, but that he did on all occasions and with commendable alacrity vote for them, that the more respectable portion of the Democratic journals of this State frankly and honorably retracted the charge, doing Mr. LINCOLN full justice in the premises; but the Times, and Mr. DOUGLAS himself, continued throughout the canvass to repeat unblushingly the falsehood.

GOV. SEWARD AT WASHINGTON.—Governor SEWARD resumed his seat in the Senate, on Wednesday last. The correspondent of the New York Commercial says:

"Senator Seward is again in his seat to-day, looking younger and fresher than he did before the convention. No sooner was it known last evening that he had returned, than his house was crowded with his numerous friends, to whom he spoke in the highest terms of the political and personal character of Abraham Lincoln."

The Tribune's correspondent adds the following:

"Mr. Seward returned last night and resumed his seat in the Senate to-day. He says emphatically that all the pretended hopes of the Democracy resulting from the disappointment of his friends are absurd, and that whoever may be the candidate at Baltimore he will be defeated by 70,000 in New York."

ANOTHER German paper is announced, to be issued at Sheboygan, and called the Sheboygan Zeitung. It is to be published by A. FOYT, and edited by C. KREZ.

Testimony from the Enemy.

We are well aware that the sympathy expressed for Mr. SEWARD, by the Democratic papers, in consequence of his failure to receive the Republican nomination for President—although a tribute to his personal worth and high standing as a statesman—is mostly for political effect. But the following testimonial to the personal character and statesmanship of Gov. SEWARD, from the Albany Argus, his life-long political enemy, is of a different character, and it is well to put it on record for the benefit of those who have been accustomed to denounce him as a firebrand abolitionist:

"Let us bear testimony, however, to one feature in the official life of Mr. Seward, which entitles him to the public gratitude.—During his career of nearly twelve years in the Senate of the United States, he has borne himself, personally, as not only to conquer the prejudices and disarm the hatred of his enemies, but so as to win their regard.—Courteous, affable, obliging to a dangerous excess, industrious, hospitable, he soon became the most influential member of a body, which he entered amid general distrust and repugnation. During this time he never yielded his anti-slavery opinions, never concealed or qualified them; but on the contrary, advanced them more strongly and defiantly, whenever the occasion arose for their utterance. He challenged the bitter political opposition of sections and interests by this course; but the waves of popular hatred that spurred so high in the distance, and bore down with such threatening volume, broke harmless at the feet of the Senator.

We speak of this not in compliment merely to the man; but because, looking back as if through the years and scenes that have passed, we regard it as something most fortunate for the Republic. A Senator of such extreme views, less forbearing under provocation, less systematically conciliatory, might have easily been driven into one of those controversies that disgrace, and perhaps into one of those collisions that dishonor the country. We should have regarded such an event as a calamity; and to us of New York, if it involved even an attempted indignity to our representative, as a humiliation. We are grateful, therefore, that the demeanor of our Senator has been maintained so firmly and equably, during the three terms of his Senatorship; nor did we see why we though a political opponent, should not be among the first to make the acknowledgement, in which we are sure citizens of New York, political foes and friends will unite."

Statistics of Immigration.

A recent report from the State Department shows that 155,509 persons arrived in this county from abroad during the past year; of whom 121,272 were aliens and 34,227 natives. Of this number 35,216 came from Ireland, and 39,315 from Germany. Of the entire amount 113,270 were landed at New York, 12,379 at Boston, 3,786 at Philadelphia, and 11,322 at New Orleans.

The following table, containing the occupations of the different parties who landed in country during the past year, will give a good idea of the kind of elements which the Old World contributes to advance the progress and civilization of the New:

Merchants	12,405	Millers	37
Mechanics	13,502	Tailors	137
Farmers	526	Seamstresses and Milliners	250
Miners	9,510	Weavers	114
Engineers	113	Painters	15
Clergymen	257	Shoemakers	140
Farmers	12,379	Musicians	45
Clerks	124	Teachers	86
Butchers	88	Printers	8
Bakers	46	Actors and Actresses	54
Physicians and Surgeons	283	Servants	1,281
Lawyers	166	Other occupations	600
Masons	49	Not stated	17,619
Manufacturers	62	Total	155,509
Artists	14
Laborers	21,696

Present appearances indicate that the immigration this year will be much heavier than for several past seasons; the arrivals thus far, at the different Atlantic ports, being largely in excess of those for the corresponding period during three years past.

ANOTHER NEW YORK ENTERPRISE.—The New Yorkers are too much for the Philadelphians, as will be seen from the following.—The idea of invading Harrisburg and all west of it—territory heretofore the exclusive dominion of the Philadelphia papers—is a fit commentary on the foolishness of the Quaker, (or slow) City in opposing the opening of the Allentown route. The Herald says:

"A newspaper express route has been arranged and commences operations this morning, the 28th, via the Central Railroad of New Jersey, by which the New York morning papers will be received at Harrisburg, Pa., and intermediate stations several hours in advance of the Philadelphia papers, and from ten to twelve hours in advance of the former arrangements. This new express and passenger train leaves the foot of Cortland street at six o'clock A. M., and arrives at Harrisburg at about twelve o'clock M. At Harrisburg the train connects with the Lehigh Valley, Pennsylvania Central, Philadelphia and Reading and other roads, so that the N. Y. journals will be received in the remotest districts of Pennsylvania before nightfall.—The same express will soon be extended to Baltimore and other Southern cities, with the same gain in time upon present arrangements and thus over a very large section of country the metropolitan journals will convey the news in advance even of the telegraphic dispatches of the local afternoon papers."

CLEVELAND VESSELS FOR RUSSIA.—"On Friday last," says the Cleveland Leader, "an engineer from the Russian Government was in town and called upon QUAYLE & MARTIN, for models and information of our shoal water craft, tugs, &c. That Government has sent out a corps of engineers to visit all ship-building localities and obtain all possible information upon which to found future action. The gentleman who was in Cleveland—who is a colonel as well as an engineer—expressed himself much pleased with the Cleveland craft, and took away with him several models and plans, from which our builders may at some future time reap a profitable job."

FOLEY BEATEN BY TIERNAN.—The Cincinnati Commercial of Wednesday morning says. "The match between PHIL TIERNAN, of this city, and MICHAEL FOLEY, of Detroit, was played last night at the International Saloon. The game—carom—was five hundred points, and the saloon was crowded by a mass of spectators. Some very beautiful playing was exhibited on both sides, the longest run being scored by TIERNAN—117 points—FOLEY reaching 81 points. PHIL took the lead and maintained it, winning the game by 145 points."

AFFAIRS IN EUROPE.—The Paris correspondent of the Boston Traveller writes that "Europe has never been in a more alarming condition than it is at this hour, since the first French Revolution." In addition to the troubles in Italy, full of peril to the repose of the Continental powers, a serious complication of events in the East is at hand. LOUIS NAPOLEON has recently sent a special envoy to Constantinople, while a large Russian force has actually advanced to the borders of Turkey.

WOULD SPEAK.—The Democrats of Ithaca, N. Y., have the control of the only cannon in that village. They refused it to the Republicans to herald the Chicago nominations. Whereupon the Republican blacksmiths of the town took down their anvils and made the welkin ring with their thunder. An enthusiastic ratification meeting followed, and a good time generally was had.

The London American is the name of an American paper published in London, the first number of which we have received. It is devoted to the interests of Americans in England, and is filled with information relative to the arrivals, &c. It has long been needed, and will undoubtedly be well supported.

THE La Crosse Union and Democrat announces, as a new feature, that it will "commence a new column under the control of MARIE MIGNONETTE"—a la FANNY FERN'S department.

A PAPER TO BE STARTED AT REEDSBURG. We understand that Mr. N. V. Chandler, formerly connected with the Steven's Point Pinery, is about starting a new paper in Reedsburg, to be Republican in politics, of course.—Baraboo Republic.

KNOWLE'S SAW Mill, a short distance above Sheboygan Falls, was burned to the ground on Saturday, a week ago. Insured in the Ætna for $1,500.

The Route—Chicago—Niagara—Blondin.

Correspondence of the Sentinel.

MONTEZUMA HOUSE, Suspension Bridge, Wednesday, May 30, 1860.

DEAR SENTINEL:—Thus far hath your correspondent journeyed. Starting from that substantial building yclept "the Albany" that well-known locality in which lawyers most do congregate, in which the enterprising DICKENSON (representative of the suaviter in modo) hath his cheap billiards, and in which there is a hall whereof the "protean" wall (representative of the fortiter in re) is the courteous proprietor. Starting from this well-known point, and sailing by the Lake Shore road we reached Chicago, safely and agreeably, of course, for LUTHER PERRIN was the conductor. Over the route there was nothing new observable. The old saw-mill at the county line looked as lively as ever; the thieving station called State line was as busy and populous as ever; and the near approach to Chicago presented the same picturesque, precipitous and sublime scenery which always reminds the astonished traveller of the wild entrance to some sequestered glen of Scotland, or some mountain-guarded valley of Switzerland.

Chicago, at the present season of the year, is characterized by many phenomena interesting to the naturalist, the savant and the man of the world. Many of its buildings, as if hoisted by the eructation of some vast subterranean giant, appear thrust far above their neighbors. The side-walks, accompanying the blocks that front on them, mount upward several feet, presenting, on some of the principal thoroughfares, a surface for pedestrians, of most uniform irregularity, as difficult of passage as those fastnesses of the Alps which scarcely the nimble chamois can safely cross, and especially arduous for the evening traveller who has (as the phrase, now obsolete, used to be, "a brick in his hat") or, as the more modern and significant expression is, "a heavy load of rails on."

Another, and more odorous peculiarity of the "Garden City" at this period, is the variety, subtlety and ambiguity of the perfumes which the combined influences of the recent rains and the supervening sun-heat have exhaled from the humid and sunken soil. But this, like their prosperity, the people of Chicago cannot help; like their prosperity it will stay by them, and, for endless years, they will continue to grow and—smell.

The enterprising inhabitants of Chicago represent that they made "a good thing" out of the recent Convention. Undoubtedly much money was left by the immense throng that overflowed their city. I would suggest that Milwaukee might make an excellent speculation by inducing some National Convention to sit in the City of Bricks. The Union Constitutional BELL and EVERETT party, perhaps, will favor us next time.—Their Convention might be held in TREAT'S Hall, with plenty of room for reporters.

The New York delegation, who showed their usual good judgment in taking quarters at the Richmond House, did not, I find, entirely exhaust the supplies of comforts and luxuries for which this hotel is famous. On the contrary, the proprietors are losing no jot of that pains-taking skill which, in so sumptuous a house, renders the traveller's stay an agreeable sojourn. This elegantly furnished and admirably kept hotel has already received its regular spring re-burnishing, and looks as neat as a new cottage in every room; while its accommodations are sufficiently ample for all occasions.

In Chicago one meets many a familiar face formerly seen in the "fair white city."—Among these quondam residents of Milwaukee, we met with none more worthy to be claimed as once our fellow-citizen—with no truer man, than that sagacious and soundhearted member of the editorial profession, Col. F. A. EASTMAN of the Times. Prudent and yet genial, he is a vigorous writer and a genuine gentleman. His talent entitles him to no second rank.

Chicago, in a business point of view, is quiet. There is, perhaps, a sort of relapse since the Convention—a subsiding below the ordinary measure of commercial activity. Yet the city is by no means dull. But it cannot fail to strike the traveler that a change has come over the pulse of '55 and '56.

Leaving Chicago by the Michigan Central (how handy the "Richmond" is to the depot) at 7:30 A. M., Tuesday, we ran very rapidly through to Detroit. The lightning express makes the whole distance—284 miles—in exactly eleven hours and a quarter. The road is in fine condition.

At Detroit we exchanged Conductor CARTER for DAVIS, and the Central train for the wide, roomy cars of the Great Western Railway. This road, well ballasted and kept in excellent repair, seems to retain its share of public favor. Thinking this, we fell asleep; and the next thing was landing and breakfast at the "Montezuma." Here all eyes are directed to the extensive preparations of M. BLONDIN, for his Summer promenade across the yawning river. The place selected is the most favorable position for the cable that the vicinity affords. Three or four hundred feet below the great bridge, in the direction of the "Montezuma," where the torrent boils and tumbles, and easy of access from all sides, the famous cable—a two-inch rope is stretched a thousand feet across the chasm and two hundred and twenty feet above the whirling rapids that roar through the rocky gorge beneath. On both sides the river, extending from the bridge down a thousand feet on each side, are put up fences fifteen feet high, in the strongest manner, against which, for nearly the whole distance, rise the seats, like those of an amphitheatre, one above another. These will accommodate ten thousand comfortably.

By an arrangement with the Suspension Bridge Company, excellent seats will be arranged on the upper part of the Bridge to accommodate eight hundred people at half a dollar each, while two thousand will be admitted to the lower part of the Bridge at twenty-five cents each.

The first exhibition is to be given on Wednesday next, June 6th. After that time Mr. BLONDIN says he intends to cross over once a week.

Through the kind courtesy of GEO. B. JONES, who for the last three or four years has acted as chief clerk at the Monteagle, I visited the grounds where M. BLONDIN is busy preparing the seats for his spectators, and had an opportunity of learning, from a personal interview and inspection, many particulars respecting the great rope-walker and his arrangements for the present season. The main rope or cable is fastened on either side by being coiled successively around two iron pins, one directly in range behind the other, three inches in diameter and sunk in holes drilled three feet into the solid rock.—To protect it from all depredators it is enclosed, to a point beyond reach, in a board box or tube, this cable steadied by guy-ropes, eight in number to each of six windlasses on each side, extending to all parts of the cable from above and below the rope. The guys are held by iron pins driven twenty inches into the rock. On each of the guy ropes, at a distance of about twenty or thirty feet from the cable, is a bag of sand weighing ten pounds. These weights are to keep the guys down so that when Mr. BLONDIN is crossing, his balancing pole may not catch in them on either side as last year.

When he crosses there will be a deflection of the cable of about fifty feet. He is to start from the American side, and land in a picturesque little summer house, built over the Canada end of the rope. HARRY COLCORD, who is still with him, rather dreads the passage on his back this time, the rapids beneath rendering the crossing much more frightful. BLONDIN, however, is confident, and says he means to walk it on stilts this summer.—COLCORD weighs 145 pounds, and looks like a Bedouin Arab. BLONDIN is five pounds lighter, and speaks English very imperfectly. He has purchased a house and lot at the Falls, and paid for it out of last year's earnings, and says he is a permanent resident of the place.

The arrangements for the season are much more complete than they were last year.—One important feature rendering the exhibition more exciting is that the rapids under the cable are swift and furious, while above the bridge the water was comparatively smooth in its flow. M. BLONDIN says that when he is in the middle of the cable and looks down, it seems as if he were going rapidly up stream, and must directly rush against the bridge.

Altogether he is a remarkable character, and his exhibition will be well worth visiting the Bridge this summer to see. The Montezuma is close by and affords all the accommodations of a first-class hotel, with courteous attention and moderate charges. More anon.

Yours, BADGER.

THE RATIFICATION MEETING IN PHILADELPHIA.—Of this imposing popular demonstration for LINCOLN and HAMLIN, and the good Republican cause, the Philadelphia North American thus speaks:

"Were we to live to the age of Methuselah, we shall never forget the spectacle that greeted our eyes when the entire series of meetings was concluded. "Now for the Continental," roared a stentorian voice, and forthwith the entire delegations enfiladed into solid rank, heading for the monster caravansera at Ninth and Chesnut. Of all the sights that Chestnut street has ever seen that was the most splendid. Sixteen ward delegations, of from six to eighteen hundred souls in each, each man bearing either a transparency or a flaming torch, rockets traversing the open sky, and bursting into fiery spangles that descended like showers of molten gold; music from the brazen throats of a multitude of instruments, comprising thirteen brass bands, a clear sky overhead, and an enthusiastic multitude below, all these went to make up an occasion that Philadelphia and the participants alike will long remember.

"Upon arriving at the Continental, the glare of noon was almost eclipsed. A huge vehicle, laden with fireworks, had reached the spot in advance of the procession, and we doubt not that for miles distant the light which tinged the heavens overhead was visibly reflected. But the music was equally remarkable. The bands blended their forces, and performed a pean that almost caused the massive edifice, at whose windows were a multitude of ladies, to vibrate with the magnitude of the sound.

"As to Chestnut street, it was effectually blockaded from Eighth to Tenth streets as though built up with solid masonry. After the music had ceased, arose cries for Sherman and he came forward and addressed the audience briefly. Mr. Trumbull, of course, could not be excused; Mr. Train couldn't think of excusing himself; Mr. Ferry, of Connecticut, failed to muster sufficient courage to say "no;" Mr. Wilkinson, of Minnesota, and the Hon J. H. Campbell, of Schuylkill, and Hon. G. A. Grow, of Susquehanna, all of these gentlemen again gave utterance to the views they had expressed, and thanked their friends for the honor of the ovation extended to them.

"It was midnight when the assemblage dispersed, and it was on all hands voted the most auspicious opening of any Presidential campaign since the days of the elder Adams. Even the glory that scintillated around "Tippecanoe" was eclipsed by the surpassingly brilliant and never-to-be-forgotten demonstration of Saturday evening."

LINCOLN AND HAMLIN AT THE MASTHEAD.—The schooner Experiment, Capt. H. M. Brown, came into port last Saturday afternoon with a flag waving at her masthead, on which was inscribed the names of Lincoln and Hamlin. The shameful neglect of the Democratic party to keep our harbors in decent repair, thereby involving the loss of many precious lives and much valuable property annually, has had a tendency to direct the votes of sea faring men in favor of a policy and a party which will benefit them sooner or later.—St. Joseph Traveler, May 30.

AN important movement is on foot in Canada—nothing less than the abolition of canal tolls and lighthouse dues on all vessels.—The effect of this would be to divert nearly all the western carrying trade from the Erie Canal in favor of the St. Lawrence route.—The Canadian Government lose about $90,000 yearly in revenue, but the Canadians gain vastly more in trade.

ACCEPTED.—We stated last week that the First Presbyterian Society of this place had extended a call to Rev. Jas. A. Hawley, of Beaver Dam. We are happy to be able to announce, upon reliable authority, that the call has been accepted.—Baraboo Republic.

City Auction Room and Land Office.

I AM NOW REMOVED TO THE STORE No. 153 East Water street. It is directly opposite to Mitchell's Bank. I think I have now one of the best rooms for auction business in the city. All who have any business in my line will please give me a call. CALEB WALL.

The firm of OGDEN & WALL is dissolved. I will at present occupy the same office for real estate purposes, and attend to all business, such as obtaining loans, selling mortgages, and renting out property. I have cash customers on hand in first class Eastern Companies at current rates. In the course of two weeks I intend to have my annual report of Real Estate operations which are now going on in the various Wards of our city. The impression with some is that our improvements are dull, and that Milwaukee city is yet alive and going ahead, and will continue to do so. Never was there such an opportunity for capitalists to invest money, as now offers. One thing I would request: all who have made contracts for buildings will please inform me, so that I can report the same. CALEB WALL,
City Land Agent.

Notice of Copartnership.

EDWIN TOWNSEND AND CHARLES SCHLEY, having this day entered into copartnership, under the name and firm of

TOWNSEND & SCHLEY,

in the Real Estate, Money and General Agency Business, will give particular attention to buying and selling Real Estate, negotiation of Loans, the buying and selling of Bonds and Mortgages, of City and County orders, the payment of Taxes, and the renting of Houses and Stores. Will also collect Claims and Rents, examine Titles to property, and will attend promptly to all matters appertaining to a General Agency Business.

City Auction and Land Office.

I GIVE THIS NOTICE THAT I ATTEND to all Real Estate operations. I am well posted in all parts of the County, as well as in and out of the city. I do not pretend or wish it understood that I am very smart; but one thing I do attend to strictly, and that is self. There are many additions made to land agencies in this city, and one would infer from it that great operations in Real Estate will come off this summer, and there is no reason why it should be otherwise. I will commence next week to make my visits to every Ward in the city and let all know what is going on. My office for Real Estate and Loan business is at the old place, corner of East street and Michigan street, opposite Mitchell's Bank. CALEB WALL,

MOTHERS! MOTHERS!

DON'T FAIL TO PROCURE MRS. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething. It has no equal on earth. It exactly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing inflamation—will allay all pain, and is sure to regulate the bowels. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and relief and health to your infants. Perfectly safe in all cases.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the most experienced and skillful Female Physicians in New England, and has been used with never failing success in millions of cases.

We believe it is the best and surest remedy in the world, in all cases of Dysentery and Diarrhœa in children, whether it arises from teething or any other cause.

If life and health can be estimated by dollars and cents, it is worth its weight in gold.

Millions of bottles are sold every year in the United States. It is no old and well tried remedy.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS A BOTTLE.

☞ None genuine unless the fac simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper.

DISEASES OF THE LIVER.

YOU MAY ALWAYS KNOW WHEN your liver is out of order, or when you are what is called ill, by any of the following symptoms: pain in the side and back, dizziness, dull headache, a bad taste in the mouth in the morning, sallow colored complexion, yellowish tint in the eyes, costiveness, or diarrhœa of slimy dark color, low spirit and dismal forebodings. It is acknowledged by all physicians and others who have seen their action, that Judson's Mountain Herb Pills are a perfect cure for all bilious affections. So pleasantly do they search out and remove every cause of disease, that each person living in a country where Fever and Ague and ague all other bilious diseases are prevalent, will find they should never be without them. From two to four Pills each night on going to bed, will in a short time drive away the sickly yellow look of bilious persons, and bring to their cheeks a beautiful glow of perfect health.

Judson's Mountain Herb Pills are sold by all druggists and dealers. my29d1dweowlm

Dr. Jas. McClintock's Pectoral Syrup

THIS STRICTLY VEGETABLE SPECIFIC, introduced by one of the first physicians and most botanists of our age, is saving the lives of countless of persons, young and old, having all the symptoms of incipient pulmonary diseases.

IMPORTANT TO FEMALES.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS,

Prepared by Cornelius L. Cheeseman, M.D., NEW YORK CITY.

THE COMBINATION OF INGREDIENTS in these Pills are the result of a long and extensive practice. They are mild in their operation, and certain in correcting all irregularities, Painful Menstruation, removing all obstructions, whether arising from cold or otherwise, headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, whites, all nervous affections, fatigue, pain in the back and limbs, &c., disturbed sleep, which arise from interruption of nature.

TO MARRIED LADIES,

Dr. Cheeseman's Pills are invaluable, as they will bring on the monthly period with regularity. Ladies who have been disappointed in the use of other Pills can place the utmost confidence in Dr. Cheeseman's Pills doing all that they represent to do.

NOTICE.

There is one condition of the female system in which the Pills cannot be taken without producing PECULIAR RESULT. The condition referred to is PREGNANCY—the result, MISCARRIAGE. Such is the irresistible tendency of the medicine to restore the sexual functions to a normal condition, that even the reproductive power of nature cannot resist it.

Warranted purely vegetable, and free from anything injurious. Explicit directions, which should be read, accompany each box. Prices $1. Sent by Mail on enclosing $1 to DR. CORNELIUS L. CHEESEMAN, Box 4531, Post Office, New York City.

Sold by one Druggist in every town in the United States. R. B. HUTCHINS,

General Agent for the United States, No. 14 Broadway, New York.

To whom all Wholesale orders should be addressed.

☞ Sold in Milwaukee by Green & Button, and H. Bosworth & Son. mar23d3wuow

HONEST ABE OF THE WEST.

Air—"Star-Spangled Banner."

O hark! the pine-crested hills of old Maine,
Where the splendor first falls from the wings of the morning,
And away in the West, over river and plain
Rings out the grand anthem of Liberty's warning!
From granite hill on the sacred enlisted!
Proudly the banner of freedom we bear:
Noble the hopes that encircle it there!
And where battle is thickest we follow the crest
Of gallant OLD ABE, HONEST ABE OF THE WEST!

The spirit that fought for the patriots of old
Has swept through the land and aroused us forever;
In the pure air of Heaven a standard unfold
For the prairie it swells to the sea,
For the people have risen, victorious and free;
They have chosen their leaders, the bravest and best:
Of them all is OLD ABE, HONEST ABE OF THE WEST!

There's triumph in urging a glorious cause,
Though the hosts of the foe for a while may be stronger,
Pushing on for just rulers and holier laws,
Till their lessening columns oppose us no longer.
But ours the loud paean of men who have passed
Through the struggles of years, and are victors at last;
So forward the flag! leave to Heaven the rest,
And trust in OLD ABE, HONEST ABE OF THE WEST!

Lo! see the bright scroll of the future unfold!
Broad farms and fair cities shall crown our devotion—
Free Labor turn even the sands into gold,
And the links of her railways chain ocean to ocean;
Barges shall float on the dark river waves
With a wealth never wrung from the sinews of slaves;
And the child, in whose rule all the land shall be blest,
Is our noble OLD ABE, HONEST ABE OF THE WEST!

Then on the holy Republican strife!
And again, for the future as fair as the morning,
For the sake of that freedom more precious than life,
Ring out the grand anthem of Liberty's warning!
Lift the banner on high, while from mountain to plain
The cheers of the people are sounded again:
Hurrah! for our cause—of all causes the best!
Hurrah! for OLD ABE, HONEST ABE OF THE WEST!
—Press & Tribune. EDMUND C. STEDMAN.

Three Per Cent. Per Month—Anecdote of Jas. G. King.

From the New York Leader.

I have said that James G. King was a great friend of Daniel Webster. So he was of Nicholas Biddle. At one time such was the influence of Mr. King that he held Wall Street in his hand, and some profane persons named him "the Almighty of Wall Street." He was fond of a little fun occasionally, and liked a good joke or a good story. He held a share in the celebrated "Tontine Stock." (By the way, I mean to give you a list of all the original members of the Tontine, and of such as are now living. I think all the Gracie family and King family had stock in the Tontine.)

Mr. King had a horror of the three and four per cent. a month operations. On one occasion a merchant was doing a very extensive business, and for whom Mr. King felt a very sincere friendship, came to him and said:

"Mr. King, I keep four large bank accounts and I have offered heavily the best paper for discount. It is flung out as fast as I offer it. I shall have to go on the street, and do as the others do—get heavily shaved. Money is worth now three per cent. a month. I have got to pay it. I do not see why I should not pay that to your house as well as on the street. I know you object to such transactions, but I cannot help myself. I will bring down my 'portfolio.' It contains in 'Bills Receivable' over $200,000 of A No. 1 business paper. You can take your selection. I must have $100,000 in cash before another week."

"No business can stand such a premium for money any length of time. It will use up a million of capital very speedily," said Mr. King.

"Oh, not at all. My business will justify my paying any rate of interest, however exorbitant."

"Why discount for a short time? Why not make it for two or three years? I will not discount your good business paper. Pay your debts with it. I will discount your note for $100,000, if you will make it three years."

"Thank you, Mr. King. I will draw it at once. It is very kind in you, but don't you want collateral?"

"No, sir. Mr. Miller, (turning to his accountant,) take off the discount at three per cent. a month on $100,000 for three years, and draw a check for the balance for Mr. D. Wait a moment, D, or give me your note for $100,000. The conversation became general, both were seated, when Mr. Miller, the accountant handed the following memorandum to Mr. King:

Note by Mr. D. for	$100,000
Payable three years after date.
Discount at three per cent. a month is thirty-six per cent. per year, and for three years 108 per cent. or	108,000
Balance due to Prime, Ward & King	$8,000

"D. have you a black check with you?" pleasantly asked Mr. King.

"A check. What for?"

"Why Miller has handed me a statement, and I find that if we discount or shave your note for three years for $100,000 at three per cent. a month you will have to pay us $8,000.

"Why this is absurd. I gave you my note for $100,000 and get no cash in return, but have to give you $8,000 cash. Bah!"

"Be cool, D., and listen. I have done this purposely to give you a lesson, to show you where your mercantile career will end, if you submit to such extortion. Now if you will pledge me your word and honor that you will curtail your business and never pay more than seven per cent. interest for money to carry on your trade, I will tell you what I will do. You want $100,000. Draw your note for that sum at ninety days, leave with me $100,000 of your best notes receivable, and I will give you the money less the ordinary discount of seven per cent."

Mr. D. was grateful. He appreciated the lesson taught by Mr. King, and he is at the present moment one of the wealthiest men in the city of New York.

LET ALL WHO HAVE THE BLUES READ THIS!—Why should any one be discouraged? Mr. J. B. Martin informed me to day that he has purchased 40 feet by 120, corner of East Water and Wisconsin streets, for which he pays five hundred dollars per foot, making twenty thousand dollars. He intends to put up stores, offices, &c., &c., on the same, which will be an ornament to the city, and will cost him from thirty to forty thousand dollars. I think we should all feel brighter than we do, and our friend J. B. Martin deserves much praise, for you will remember that he was the first man who took the responsibility of erecting the magnificent blocks of stores in our city several years ago.

THE PRAIRIE TRAVELER,

A HANDBOOK FOR OVERLAND EMIGRANTS, With Maps, Illustrations, and Itineraries of the Principal Routes between the Mississippi and the Pacific.

BY RANDOLPH B. MARCY,

CAPTAIN U. S. ARMY.

Published by Authority of the War Department.

12mo, muslin, $1.00.

NO MAN INTENDING TO VISIT Pike's Peak will be without this book. It he knows how to prepare for a journey, and that among other things, itineraries of the best roads that have been traveled, from the Missouri River, with the smallest distances between each camping place, and a minute description of the wood, water and grass. Capt. Marcy, who is perfectly familiar with the country about Pike's Peak, has given an accurate description of it, with a map, which will be found in the book.

Should the emigrant, after his arrival at Pike's Peak, desire to go to New York, Utah, Oregon, or to the mines in Washoe district in Carson Valley, he will find among the numerous itineraries the most careful and minute descriptions of the best roads over the Plains.

With this book in his hand the traveler will be able on starting out from each camp, to tell precisely how far it is to the next place where he can find a camping place, which will enable him to regulate his drives to the best advantage for his animals.

TELEGRAPH!

REPORTED BY THE N. Y. ASSOCIATED PRESS FOR THE DAILY SENTINEL.

Methodist Conference at Buffalo.

BUFFALO, June 2.—3 P. M.

In the Methodist Conference yesterday, the exciting question of slavery was settled, as far as the Conference is concerned, by the adoption of a resolution that the new chapter upon slavery as adopted, is itself clearly declaratory of principle, and advisory in practice, and not statutory in its nature, and needs no explanatory clause. The majority report of the slavery committee was then taken up and the preamble adopted with that part stricken out which in any way relates to the proposed restriction, which has been rendered unnecessary by the rejection of the rule.

Dr. Nash, of Cincinnati, made an interesting speech in relation to the General work in which he is engaged, pleading for the establishment of an annual Conference, to be called the Cincinnati German Conference.

A resolution by Mr. Tyndale, of Ohio, that existing circumstances did not warrant the formation at this time, of a German Conference, was adopted.

The committee on revisals was instructed to strike out from this discipline the provision relative to the ordination of slaveholding local preachers.

The Bishops were authorized to establish an annual Conference in Indiana.

A final adjournment of the Conference will probably take place to-night.

Washington Matters.

WASHINGTON, June 1.

Mr Appleton was to-day confirmed Minister to Russia, and W. H. Prescott as Assistant Secretary of State.

Horace F. Clark, Member of the House from N Y., testified yesterday before the Covode Committee relative to the subsidy of $40,000 per month to Mr. Vanderbilt. He stated that neither Mr. Buchanan nor the Administration were responsible, as the arrangement was completed before Mr. Buchanan came into.

The senate confirmed to-day the nomination of Mr. Day, of Iowa, as Purser of the U. S. Navy.

Bell and Everett Demonstration.

BOSTON, June 1.

The Union ratification meeting for Bell and Everett, at Faneuil Hall to-night, is a great demonstration, notwithstanding a pouring rain. Several out of town delegates were present, and the hall was densely packed.—Hon. S. A. Elliott, presided.

Among the speakers were Thos. Stevenson, George H. Hilliard, Mr. Henry, of Tenn., Mr. Saltonstall and Hon. Edward Everett.

Letters of acceptance were read, and most enthusiastically received.

Letter from Hon. Edward Bates.

WASHINGTON, June 2—3 P. M.

Hon Edward Bates, of Mo., is about to publish a letter, addressed to O H. Browning, of Quincy, Ill., advising his friends to do their own act to secure the election of Lincoln and Hamlin, and expressing the opinion that they should not waste their votes upon the Bell and Everett ticket.

Republican Congressional Nominations.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 1.

The Sixth Congressional Republican Convention met here to-day and nominated Albert G Porter, for re-election, by acclamation. Mr Porter is the present Representative and was elected by 1,060 majority.

LATEST NEWS!

BY LAST NIGHT'S REPORT

FOUR DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

Arrival of the City of Baltimore.

ST JOHNS, N. F., June 2—9 P. M.

The steamer City of Baltimore, from Liverpool 23rd, via Queenstown 24th, passed Cape Race about seven yesterday, but owing to an interruption of the line, her news could not be forwarded till to-day.

She has 600 steerage passengers, and 60 cabin for New York.

The following is the summary of news prepared by the Liverpool Agent of the Associated Press for transmission via Cape Race. The Queenstown dispatch, which should accompany it, has not reached us

GREAT BRITAIN.—The House of Lords had rejected the Commons bill, repealing the paper duty, and the act excited much attention. The vote was 193, against 104—showing a majority against the Government of 89. The vote was preceded by an extended debate, in which Lord Lyndhurst, and other eminent Peers, asserted the Constitutional rights of the House of Lords to reject a bill, although it was a money bill.

Lord Palmerston stated in the Commons, that he would move for a committee to examine precedents for the course pursued by the Lords, but disclaimed a desire to place the two houses of Parliament in hostility.

It was reported that the Cabinet would accept the decision of the House of Lords and return the tax.

The official Neapolitan statements current at the departure of the Arabia, to the effect that Garibaldi's forces had been completely routed are flatly contradicted. The Neapolitan troops were completely defeated at that city. Garibaldi's troops had invested Morrila, which commanded Palermo.

The latest news says that Garibaldi had obtained a decided victory at Morrila.

The Neapolitan government has very little to say, but the last bulletin has it that two columns were pursuing the dispersed troops of Garibaldi.

The insurgents were gaining strength daily.

It was vaguely reported that France and Russia signed a treaty, on the 19th, on the eastern question.

The Reserve had advanced and rentes closed 66¾@66¾c.

The Russian troops in the southern provinces are report d to have been placed on a war footing.

A private telegraph from China says the Chinese government absolutely refuses the ultimatum of England and France, and that war is the only alternative.

Congressional Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, June 2—9 P. M.

HOUSE.—The House resumed the consideration of Mr. Winslow's resolution offered yesterday, directing the Speaker to issue his subpœna for certain witnesses to appear before the Covode committee.

Mr. Train said, with his sense of duty he could never allow the minority to dictate the direction of business. He would, however, listen to any suggestion from his colleage of the committee, Mr. Winslow, as he had always done with deference, but he repeated he could not allow him or the minority to dictate to the majority how it shall pursue the investigation. We are held responsible and therefore should pursue our own way.

Mr. Clark, of Mo., inquired, do I understand the gentleman to say that the Republicans are a majority in the House?

Mr. Train—I don't include the gentleman, and that's enough.

Mr. Botler—Does the member include any gentleman of the Southern opposition? It is an imputation upon the party to which I have the honor to belong.

Mr Train—Perhaps I ought to qualify my language that the Republican party is responsible for the legislation of this House. We shall be held responsible to some extent for the conduct of the committee. The resolution of Mr. Winslow is out of order.

A number of private bills were passed. The House then went into committee of the whole on the state of the Union. Nearly all the members then left, a few remaining for general debate.

Mr. Stewart, of Md., made a speech in reply to his colleague, Mr. Davis, who, several months ago, attacked the House of Delegates of that State for censuring him for voting for a Republican Speaker—Mr Pennington.

Mr Davis said the House of Delegates' expression of opinion was a sheer piece of impertinence.

Mr Stewart asked whether his colleague thought the people of Maryland would sustain him?

Mr. Davis had no mode of ascertaining this till the fall election, and perhaps not then, for he did not suppose his personal conduct would be in issue, but he had no doubt that when the time came he would find enough to sustain him in and out of his district.

Mr. Stewart replied it was a libel on Maryland to say she would sustain him. She was perfectly sound on the slavery question. If the question between himself and his colleague were submitted to the people the latter would not get more than a corporal's guard, or about as many as Fremont received there. His colleague's issue animated and strengthened the Republican party.

Mr. Maynard, in reply to a remark of Mr. Stewart, said, on reliable authority, that Mr. Fillmore does not, and will not, support the Chicago nominees.

Mr. Morrill took the floor, when Mr. Craig, of N. C., raised the point of order that there was no quorum. He was tired of making the House a debating society, and of the printing of speeches never delivered. The very men who voted to go into committee in order that gas might be left off, had left. He resisted all appeals to withdraw his objection, and the committee rose, and adjourned.

Fatal R. R. Accident.

WASHINGTON, June 2—9 P M.

A collision occurred on the Baltimore Central R. R. at 20 minutes past 6 o'clock this P. M., near Fairville Station. Two passenger trains met on the curve, where the grade was heavy, and rushing into each other, both engines and four cars became a total wreck.

The firemen and engineers escaped by jumping from the train. Conductor Willis Taylor and a newsboy were seriously injured. Lee Miehmer, a farmer of Chester county, who was standing on the platform, was instantly killed.

Mr. Finney, an employee, was injured.—Contractor A. B. Burton, who was riding on one of the engines, but jumped off, escaped with tut slight bruises.

Every assistance was rendered to the passengers, a number of whom were more or less injured. They were taken to Mendehall's farm house.

Later from Mexico.

NEW ORLEANS, June 1.

The steamer Austin has arrived from the Brazos 29th ult., with $54,000 in specie.

A conducta with $500,000 Mexican, had left Zacatecas for Tampico, to be shipped thence to New Orleans and England.

Brownsville advices state that Cortinas was lingering near the Rio Grande, and there were fears of an attack on the American side.

New York Matters.

NEW YORK, June 2—9 P. M.

The steamer Adriatic took out nearly 400 cabin passengers, $1,250,000 specie and New Orleans mails of Tuesday, and telegrams of Friday. The Edinburgh nearly 300 passengers and upwards of $300,000.

King and Wood, the prize fighters, were arrested early this morning, near Willett's Point, while making preparations for a match. Some of the bruisers showed fight, and were sadly beaten by the police.

Arrested.

CLEVELAND, June 2—9 P. M

Stephen G. Kennedy, who some time since run away from Memphis with a young girl, leaving a wife in that city, and for whom requisition was made on Gov. Dennison by Gov. Harris of Tenn., on charge of stealing slave property, which was refused, was today taken back to Memphis by Marshal Craw, requisition having been made, in which Kennedy is charged with stealing jewelry from his wife. Ineffectual search was made for his paramour.

The Championship—Heenan's Letter.

To the Editor of the Times—SIR: Ever since the appearance in your paper of May 7 of the letter of Tom Sayers, I have endeavored by every means in my power to ascertain from him in an official way, guaranteed by the presence of the editor of Bell's Life that it is he intends to abide by the date recently fixed for us by the gentleman for the champion's belt and stakes. The editor of Bell's Life, in view of the sentiments of that letter, acknowledged the propriety of such inquiries on my part, and also of such proposed official response on the part of Sayers, and did what he could by letters and telegraph dispatches to get Sayers here to answer. Until Saturday, however, it was impossible for him to ascertain with certainty, even in what part of England Sayers then was, and finally, through the failure of such efforts, I received information on Saturday from the editor and referee, that he could not interfere further in the matter.

Now, sir, as I am left as it were "all at sea," and as it was yesterday stated in Bell's Life that I was desirous of bringing the matter to an amicable arrangement with Sayers, I will state what I am willing to do.

I am willing, first of all, to accept of the proposition made by a writer in Bell's Life, that Sayers and I should have a belt apiece, to be gotten up by public subscription, provided that the true champion's belt remain in the hands of the editor of Bell's Life, to be fought for again, the best man to take it. If that be not agreed to, I will accept the proposition put forth in Punch—viz., to divide the belt—I take one-half and Sayers take the other. I will then head a subscription to provide a new half to his, and in this way I think good feeling may be preserved on both sides.

If neither of these propositions (proceeding, as they do, from English sources,) are allowed me, then I shall claim that Sayers meet me on neutral ground, where our late battle may be properly resumed. Though I am not quite ready to become a member of the peace society, I will cheerfully vary my proposition somewhat to suit him. As the belt may be said to be equally owned by both of us, I will agree to run him a foot race from 100 yards to five miles for the stakes and belt, or I will row him for the belt, I will swim a mile with him for the belt, or I will take hold of hands and jump from a house-top with him for the belt.

If all these offers will not do, I will agree, in two months, to be ready to fight the four best men that can be produced in England, beginning with Sayers, at intervals of thirty days apart, for the belt. I was told if I won it, I could have it. I would rather fight for it than anything else; but I am willing under the present state of public feeling, to accept of half of it. If that be denied me, and through the exceptional action of the British authorities I be denied the privilege of another meeting, I shall have no alternative but to go home, refusing all English testimonials and subscriptions, and shall hereafter feel at liberty—nay justified by all the equities of the late transaction—to sign myself "The Champion of the World."

I remain, sir, your ob't. serv't,

JOHN C. HEENAN.

Saracen's Head Hotel, Snow-hill, London, May 14.

SAYERS' REPLY.

To the Editors of the Times: Sir—In answer to Mr. Heenan's letter which appeared in the Times of this day, I beg, first, to observe that I have not been hiding myself as he would insinuate. I called, with my Backer, at the office of Bell's Life in London on Tuesday, the 8th of May. I told him that my backer and I were going out of town until Saturday. I visited Tunbridge on Wednesday, Maidstone on Thursday, Tunbridge and Hastings on Friday, and Brighton on Saturday. My movements were well known, and a letter or telegram addressed to "Tom Sayers," or "The Champion of England," would have found me at either of those places, but none came to hand.

The ridiculous suggestion put forward by Mr. Heenan, of mutilating the belt, I laugh to scorn, and could afford to treat it with the contempt it merits, but that some good friend of mine—of the Peace Society—have, innocent y enough, patronized the notion. The belt, sir, I have fought Lard to obtain; striving for that prize, I have within the last three years defeated some of the best men of my country; and, without intending to cast the slightest slur on my gallant opponent, I say that no American citizen, nor foreigner from any other land, however flowery and sunny, shall tear it, or the buckle of it, from England, while my arm and heart are capable of defending it.

I am as ready as Mr. Heenan to fight again, and repudiate with indignation the insinuation that I am not. In a very short time the champion's belt will be up by indefeasible right; and, even if Mr. Heenan had defeated me, it would not be his. He would have to do as I have done—meet every aspirant to the honor of wearing it for three years before he would become the lawful possessor of the trophy. What, then, becomes of the assertion made in Mr. Heenan's letter, that the belt is equally owned by both of us? There is no such equality; but I will do him the justice he appears desirous of denying me, by admitting his equality in valor. To run, swim, or wrestle for the belt of the prize ring, is a challenge so eminently absurd that no one can hardly imagine it emanates from a sane man, and the evidence of aberration of mind is greatly strengthened by the proposition to jump off a house top.

The same proposition was once made by a lunatic, who had his medical attendant alone on the roof of the asylum. "Let us," said the mad patient, seizing the doctor with a firm grasp, "jump down; but the medical man, with great presence of mind said, "Nay, anybody could jump down; let us go into the street and jump up." Like Teddy the Tiler, I know something of the roofs of houses, and their foundations also, and while I unquestionably admit that Heenan is a "stunner," I hope always to be able to say with truth, as I do now, that I am a bricklayer. The offer to fight four men at intervals of thirty days, savours of bounce, and is unworthy of John Heenan. He should remember that it might take him the first month to vanquish TOM SAYERS.

Gordon Hotel, Convent Garden, May 15.

MAN DROWNED.—In running lumber over the falls on Tuesday afternoon, two men were thrown from the forward end of a string just after it had come over the lower dam, and one of them disappeared. The other was pulled on board. The name of the drowned man was Alfred Rollius, aged about 28 years, and a native of Maine. He was a sailor, but no swimmer, and it is supposed that he was struck by the hind end of the raft, and injured so that he could not help himself.—Jackson Co. Banner.

MONETARY.

SATURDAY, P. M., June 2d, 1860.

The money market has recovered to some extent from the dullness prevalent a week ago, and with a better demand for Currency, the offerings of produce drafts are more numerous, and the supply of Exchange consequently increased. The demand for Currency has not been such as to overtax the ability of the regular discount houses, and all the offerings of good business paper have been freely taken at 10 ₰ cent. Exchange is in pretty good demand, buying at 1, and selling at 1¼ premium. Gold firm at 1¾. Messrs. Price, Farmer & Co. are buying coin at the annexed rates:

EXCHANGE AT CHICAGO keeps up to 1¾ prem. The Press & Tribune of this morning says:

The exchange market is a shade easier. Rates are, however, still firm at 1¾ to customers; while purchases were made by bankers at ¼ below asking figures showing a decided change for the better within the last three days.

MONEY AND EXCHANGE AT CINCINNATI.—The Cincinnati Gazette of yesterday says:

The money market is working into an easy condition. A marked improvement has taken place within the last few days, and it may now be said that the supply of capital is in excess of the offerings of first class paper. Houses that keep their lines full, are under the necessity of lowering their standard, and those who have been adhering to this Mineral policy, find it the means accumulating. The indications are that we are approaching a period when money will be plentier and cheaper than it has been in this market for sometime. Rates are still maintained, however, with most of the Banking and in outside circles; but No. 1 names can be negotiated 1@2 per cent, lower than a week or two since. We quote 8@10 per cent, as the range. Good number paper having six months to run has been sold at 8 per cent.

There is a full supply of Eastern Exchange in the market, and rates are not sustained with any degree of firmness. Several of the leading houses report checking their drafts, and are willing to be free to sell at ¼ prem. than to buy at ¼. The approach of the 1st of July, when remittances will be heavy, may relieve the market, and in anticipation of this demand it is probable rates will be maintained. Gold is coming in New Orleans, but prices are unchanged. Gold can be bought in round sums at ¼ prem.—There is very little demand for it. Time bills on the east continue scarce. First class names would be taken at 8@9 per cent. for 30 and 60 days, and 8@9 for 90 days. New Orleans 10@12 per cent.

PENDING OF MONEY AT THE EAST.—The Boston Traveller of May 30, contains the following:

Money is very abundant in all the large cities. The dullness in the trade and commerce causes this, for with the exception of the Cotton culture and manufacture there is no business which is paying profits sufficient to warrant the hiring of money, even at the low rates of interest. Foreign commerce has generally been carried on at a loss to the importing interest of the last two years. The carrying trade, both foreign and domestic, is much depressed, and the ability of the grain growing region of the United States as consumers of goods has been much curtailed since the time when the work upon railroads stopped and the high demand for grain became much diminished. As a consequence the stock market has become much inflated, a large amount of idle capital has been put into it, both as investments and as loans or collateral.

The New York Herald says money continues there in excess of the demand. The banks and discount houses refuse short business paper, and the "rights a-rit" would go at 4 to 6 per cent. An effort has been made on the strength of large shipments to be made by the Adriatic and Edinburgh on Saturday, to put up the rates, but it failed, simply because no one seems to want any money.

The Philadelphia Ledger, of Wednesday, says:

We have rarely known money more in excess of business demand in this city, or its rate of paper lower. Large amounts are lying idle at the most of our savings funds, insurance offices, and with private bankers, from which, in some instances, loans have been made as low as 4 per cent., and at 5@6 per cent. almost any amount can be had on prime, short bills.—In the mean time the good sound stocks and loans slowly but steadily advance.

SATURDAY P. M., June 2d, 1860.

The wheat market to-day was comparatively dull, and yesterday's prices were barely sustained, and the outside figures paid for No. 1 spring yesterday afternoon, not reached by ½@1c. The market opened by $1,09¾ for No. 1 in store, and $1,08 for No. 2, and at the close buyers were offering only $1,07 for No. 2, and $1,09 for No. 1, but with the exception of a sale of 500 bus No. 2 at $1,07, as far as we could learn, sellers refused to concede to the decline. The dullness is attributable mainly to the absence of any reliable report from New York, and a disposition amongst dealers to await the next steamer's advices (now about due) before "going in" very extensively.

Flour was rather dull, some 800 bbls only changing hands at $3,80@3,75 for Fine, $4@4,35 for Superfine, $5,10@5,70 for Extra, the latter for the very choicest brand that has been on the market this season. The tendency of the market was in favor of buyers, but the same influences that operated upon the wheat market prevented much activity.

Other articles were nominally unchanged.

A vessel was chartered for wheat to Oswego at 7c.

The receipts of wheat were 15,206 bus, and the shipments 16,000 bus.

ENGROSSERS STOCK OF PRODUCE AT LIVERPOOL.—At a late meeting of the Liverpool Mersey Docks and Harbor Board, the fact of the enormous stock of produce in Liverpool was alluded to. Mr. Forwood drew attention to the insufficient ware house accommodation for the cotton which was at present in the port, and which was expected to arrive, and asked if some measures could not be taken to render the transit sheds of use for storage in such an emergency. The Chairman (Mr. Tobin) replied that the stock of all descriptions of produce at present in the port was enormous and unusual; in fact, beyond all precedent. The cotton alone amounted to a million bales. Mr. Forwood said that the want of warehouse room was seriously inconveniencing trade, the price charged for warehousing cotton being as high 1d, 1¼d, and 1½d per bale per week.

CHICAGO MARKET, JUNE 1ST.—Receipts of the articles named, at Chicago, yesterday, were as follows:

Flour, bbls	2,922
Wheat, bus	19,000
Corn, bus	16,000
Oats, bus	4,111
Rye, bus	175
Barley, bus	240

The Press & Tribune says:

The general markets to-day were less active and the tendency downward. The receipts of Corn were only 75,351 bus, and the shipments 199,577 bushels, but in the absence of much demand for shipment the market was quiet and 5@6c low than yesterday. At the opening buyers paid only 44c for No. 2 afloat, and although the market became firmer on 'Change and touched 47c, still it closed quiet and irregular, with a limited speculative inquiry at 46½c. Sales amount to about 100,000 bus, at 47c for No. 2 Canal afloat; 46 @47c for No. 1 in store; 44@44½c for No. 2; and 35c for Rejected. Wheat opened at yesterday's closing prices, but as soon as the shipment of Corn was known the market became flat and declined 1c—transactions amounting to only about 14,000 bus, at $1,06@1,07 for No 2 spring in store. Four or five small parcels sold at $1,07@1,07½ for Spring Canal afloat, and $1,07@1,08 for White Winter. Oats were in good demand in store, and an advance of half a cent was obtained; but bagged lots were dull and lower. Sales of No. 1 in store were made at 28½c, and on track in bags at 26c. Rye and barley unchanged.

Freights continue dull and rates have declined 3@4c—vessels being engaged at 2¾@3c for corn to Buffalo.

NEW YORK TEA SALES, JUNE 1ST.—The sales of tea this morning comprised only 2,717 half-chests grees, 300 do blacks. They were nearly all sold at an advance of 1@2c @ 2, all round. The bidding was very spirited. Gross selling at 30½@43½c; young Hyson 30½@ 61; gunpowder 35½@57½; oolong 33½@42c, all on the usual terms.

Weekly Review of Milwaukee Markets.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY SENTINEL, } Saturday, P. M., June 2d. }

The past week has witnessed a very decided improvement in our produce market, both as regards prices and the amount of business done, as the transactions reported below fully indicate. The wheat market at times has been quite excited, the upward movement being more rapid than the previous decline, the various advances since Monday, amounting to about 8c ₰ bushel. The immediate cause of this sudden, and to many, unexpected change in the course of the wheat market, was an increased foreign demand, simultaneously with an advancing tendency of prices in the English markets, and the poor harvest prospects at the South has exercised more or less influence in the same direction, upon the Eastern and Southern markets. We annex a comparative statement of the closing prices of wheat in our market for the past five weeks:

	No. 1 Spring.	No. 2 do.	No. 1 Club.	Extra Club.
May 5th	$1,12½@	$1,10	$1,14@1,15	$1,15@1,16
do 12th	1,03	1,00	1,10@1,11	1,11@1,12
do 19th	1,05	1,06	1,12@1,13	1,14@1,14½
do 26th	1,05	1,03	1,08@1,10	1,10@1,11
June 2d	1,09	1,07	1,12@1,18	1,13@1,14

No. 1 and 2, in store; Club and Extra, delivered.

The market has not been steady; on the contrary, scarcely a day passed that prices did vacillate from 1 to 3c, indicating a nervous feeling amongst operators.

The flour market partook to some extent of the buoyancy in wheat, but was more steady, as an improvement of about 10@15 cents. The principal demand was for medium shipping brands, which have ruled during the past two days at $5@5,25 for fair to good Extra. Choice brands are held at $5,50@5,70, but these figures are quite above the views of shippers, and the better qualities of flour have consequently been neglected.

The receipts of coarse grains continue trifling, as there is every probability that they will so continue until after harvest. There is scarcely any shipping demand for oats, corn, barley and rye, except for local use. Oats are not so firm, and have been selling at 31c delivered, in a retail way. We quote shelled corn at 46 @47c; barley 55@65c, for the range of qualities; rye 74@75, held about 5c above these prices. Grass seed can only be quoted nominally, as we may say there is none coming in. Dealers will pay $3@3,25 for good timothy, and perhaps a little more for very choice Butter is in good supply, selling at 7@10c for common to fair; firkin, and 12@c for choice roll. Hides firm, but unchanged. Highwines and whiskey steady.

Freights on wheat are ½@c lower. A few vessels were engaged in the early part of the week at 7½c to Oswego, and 5c to Buffalo, but the closing rates are 7 and 4c to those ports. Rates on flour by steam are the same as they have been for several weeks, namely:

To Buffalo (nominal)..... 25c ₰ bbl.
To New York ..... 60c do
To Oswego ..... 40c do
To Ogdensburgh ..... 45c do
To Boston, (via Ogdensburgh)..... 80c do
